The review covered every payment made during the year and found that most were supported by a signed form. The remaining payments were approved by an administrative office that had no written authority to approve them, and the review recommends that the authority be documented.

A second paragraph on the same page ends with a full stop.